That's why every day we work on moving our fundraising infrastructure to the cloud. In the past we've relied on expensive hosting solutions - now we work with low-cost, low-overhead systems that will allow us to scale to millions of visits per day. We're already using these systems for other fundraising websites that raise hundreds of thousands of pounds per year. Why the cloud? We're not starting this migration lightly. As we move to the cloud we will need to do a lot of testing to ensure that everything is working perfectly. The cloud is not perfect - just like everything else. We'll need to keep this in mind as we move to the cloud. For a not-for-profit organisation it's more important to know that your websites and fundraising pages are up and running without fail than it is for them to work perfectly. If something goes wrong, we've got a world of expertise behind us (the fundraiser community) that can help us with any technical issues we have. PROTOCOLS We use a range of protocols to secure the data we collect from our visitors, and to maintain an absolute minimum of intrusive advertising. We do not store passwords, e-mail addresses or financial details in the database. They're all stored in the internet 82157476af
