Thoracic outlet syndrome is an uncommon condition of uncertain etiology and multifactorial prognosis, for which surgical decompression has been established as a mainstay of therapy in the management of severe symptoms. A case of a rare complication in the form of life-threatening airway constriction associated with thoracic outlet syndrome in a 5-year-old girl is presented. The literature on airway control strategies and airway management in children with thoracic outlet syndrome is reviewed.A comparative study of gonadal function in baboons (Papio cynocephalus) and common marmosets (Callithrix jacchus) after various treatments. Gonadal function in female baboons (Papio cynocephalus) and common marmosets (Callithrix jacchus) was studied for 6-8 weeks after treatment with estradiol, estradiol + progesterone, cyclophosphamide, or cyclophosphamide + progesterone. The baboons were surgically adrenalectomized and implanted with Silastic capsules containing 60 mug estradiol daily.

So I guess for an internet-based career, this would be a good location to do it (I live in the US). A lot of MOOCs have been cancelled due to Covid-19, so now it seems like a great time to train online for free. I am mostly looking for more general topics, as I have already signed up for a few. I would like to try a bit of coding in Elixir, so maybe something like these (the first one was the best one that I could find for avoiding false positives). f678ea9f9e
